Tomorrow is the Big Day

Well, it looks like I will become a grandmother tomorrow. Audrey Sarah is due to arrive sometime tomorrow. I'm sure she will be the most beautiful wonderful little baby girl to grace the planet since my own little girl arrived 24 years ago.

Grandparents everywhere are sparing no lengths to tell me that there is nothing like the experience.

I am armed with camera and video cam to record the momentous event and will share pictures with you as soon as possible.

I did get several suggestions on young sounding grandmother names. Thanks for the feedback. I am leaning towards Nana but I'm gonna wait to see what Audrey thinks tomorrow:)

More later.
